HE FIRED INTO THE ROYAL CASTLE

King And Queen, However, Were Away From The Palace At The Time--Man Was Arrested

By The Police And Disarmed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Christiania, March 10.—The city was thrown into the wildest turmoil this morning when it was announced that an assassin had attempted the lives of the King and Queen and of King Hakan of Norway, a royal guest.

Fired Shots
It was learned later that the police had arrested a native of Sweden, who is apparently insane, who had fired five shots into the royal palace. He was captured after a brief battle and disarmed by the officials.

Would Kill All
At the police station it was learned on close questioning that the man was not an anarchist but insane and that his intention was to have shot and killed the King and Queen and King Hakan.

Were Absent
While the excitement was at its height it was learned that the royal party were away from the palace and this led to much anxiety until their safety was assured and they were located.

WANTS WARRANT FOR FIREMEN INJURED HIS YOUNG DAUGHTER IN GOTHAM TODAY

Claims She Hit Him Over the Head with an Iron Rod--Family Trouble at Superior.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Superior, Wis., March 10.—A warrant for the arrest of a fifteen-year-old daughter was sought in court yesterday by Axel Johnson, who alleges that she used an iron rod on his head with a great force. He certainly had a battered head, but looked as though something had happened.

Some time ago the father was arrested on the complaint of his wife to the effect that he did not support his family. He was allowed to go provided he worked and contributed to the support of his home. This he has done for the money matters were so arranged that they have been paid through the court. Now Johnson doesn't like it when his daughter treats him as she does, especially when he is urged to pay the mother.

The story goes that when Johnson went home Saturday both his wife and daughter started trouble with him. The plaintiff says that while the girl was beating him Mrs. Johnson called to her to kill him. As the girl is under 16 years of age Johnson was referred to the juvenile court. The charge of non-support was dismissed.

Broken-hearted
Heart-broken and writhed over the loss of his wife who secured a divorce from him recently. Erick Olson took to drink and after a protracted jag was found dead in the rear of his saloon at 10 o'clock Saturday night. Olson had been in the room for some hours when he was discovered and the physician who was summoned stated that the man had died early in the evening.

Olson roomed over a saloon, having taken up his residence there after the divorce. He was formerly an industrial and sober man, according to his friends, but recently had been without employment. The proprietor of the saloon says he did not drink enough to hurt him although he was around the saloon a great deal.

SUN FLOWER STATE FOR BIG SECRETARY

Republican State Convention Will Assemble in Omaha Tomorrow Morning.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Omaha, Neb., March 10.—The advance guard of delegates has put in an appearance at the Republican State convention here tomorrow to choose delegates to the Republican national convention. A small-sized town started some time ago in the interest of La Follette seems to have collapsed, leaving Secretary Taft virtually the unanimous choice of Nebraska Republicans for the presidential nomination. The boom for the Secretary of War was given a good start early in January when the State committee adopted a resolution endorsing Taft for president. Since then a majority of the county parties have resulted in the passing of similar resolutions, while the minority delegates to the State convention are popularly supposed to lean toward Taft. The most notable exceptions are the delegates from Lancaster county, the home of William J. Bryan, who have been instructed for Roosevelt. This is not expected to interfere, however, with the plan of the party leaders to have the State convention pass strong resolutions endorsing Taft.

This time the verdict was guilty and the death penalty affixed.

BECKER'S ORDER WAS NOT OBEYED TODAY

Schools Remain Open Today and Superintendent Says They Will Continue So.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., March 10.—The public schools of Milwaukee did not close today notwithstanding the order of Mayor Becker. Supt. C. G. Pearce of the public schools said they will remain open, and there the matter stands. The mayor remained in seclusion in his private office most of the morning and had nothing to say on the subject. The impression prevails that the mayor will not find it expedient to insist on the enforcement of his instructions. City Attorney Kelly holds that the building inspector has no jurisdiction over the school board under the law creating the present board and that therefore Mr. Lindemann need pay no attention to the order served upon him by the building inspector early Monday morning.

The international congress is to remain in daily session for one week. The welfare of the child is the general subject of attention. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Manitowish, Wis., March 10.—By a tie vote decided by the mayor the common council last night revoked the license of Charles Olson who was charged with violation of the excise laws and with selling liquor to minors and harboring girls. In the committee of the whole the council voted seven to five for revoking the license but a change by one of the members made a tie vote at the official session. The mayor scored the council because of its refusal to accept its own recommendation. Olson was served with a formal notice and was closed up today but it is said he will appeal to the circuit court. As a result of the case Olson filed papers as a republican candidate for alderman at the spring election.

NAVY ARMOR BELT CALLED DEFICIENT

SENATE COMMITTEE LISTENS TO CRITICISMS.

METCALF PLAYS DEFENDER

Secretary Declares That, in Highest Opinions, the Line is in Correct Position—His Opinion Like That Given by Commander.

Washington, Mar. 10.—Testimony was adduced Monday before the senate committee on naval affairs which is investigating the criticisms of battleship construction, showing that the location of the armor belt of American battleships was too low.

On the other hand, a letter from Secretary Metcalf was read declaring it to be the opinion of the board of construction and Rear Admirals Evans and Brownson that the armor belt lines of the battleships Delaware and North Dakota were right. The secretary in his communication took occasion to declare that American battleships were superior to those of any other navy. The witnesses Monday were Lieut. Richard D. White, assistant inspector of target practice, and Rear Admirals George C. Hovey and C. F. Goodrich. Lieut. White was the first to take the stand.

Baye Location is Right.

In reference to the location of the armor belt, he said that it was possible for a ship to get into action at the designed load draft the present location would be about right, but it was his observation that the ships had greater drafts than those designed. He thought the drafts would be still greater under war conditions. His opinion was the same as that of Commander Sims, who is the inspector of target practice. Concerning the construction of turrets, he said that antiaircraft demands that the turret proper shall be structurally separate from the ammunition handling room. The two-stage hoist is one way to effect this, but he thought it might be possible to construct a direct hoist so that the handling room could be isolated. He preferred the two-stage hoist and declared that the shutters now in use in the direct hoist are "most inefficient." Describing the shutter, he said it is so constructed that grains of powder could easily get through.

Asks Raising of Belt.

Chairman Hale read a letter from Secretary Metcalf stating that after the plans for the battleships Delaware and North Dakota had been approved

Secretary Metcalf.

an officer (Lieut. Commander Hill) recommended that the armor belt should be raised. The department offered his criticism to the board of construction and the original designs were declared to be right. The officer made rejoinder and the matter was then referred to Rear Admirals Brownson and Evans, who also declared that the belt was correctly located. Secretary Metcalf called attention to the fact that the Delaware and North Dakota are equipped with the two-stage hoists, and "there is no ground for further contention as to the location of the armor belt."

Declares Ships Not Inferior.

Answering general criticisms, Secretary Metcalf said: "Our ships are not inferior, type for type in their own period of construction, to vessels of other navies. On the contrary, I concur in opinions expressed abroad that our ships are superior."

Rear Admiral George C. Hovey, retired, told the committee he would locate the armor belt with reference to the proper load water line when the ship is equipped to go into battle. He thought it the duty of a commander of a battleship to have full stores on board if possible in going into battle. He expected coal, but thought the bunkers should be at least two-thirds full. He said he never had believed in the open turret and thought the guns should be completely isolated from the ammunition handling rooms. Though unfamiliar with the hoists now used, he said he had no hesitancy in endorsing the interrupted hoist. He supposed sacrificing safety for rapidity of fire.

Danville, Ill., Mar. 10.—Henry Schoenfeldt, 28 years old, of Elverston, Ind., was arrested here Monday, charged with defrauding the First National bank of Tipton, Ind., of a large sum of money by uttering a fraudulent check. He was taken to Tipton by an officer from that place soon after his arrest. Schoenfeldt is also wanted in various towns in Missouri and Southern Illinois for forgery.

SAY BILL STEALS POWER

MINORITY SUBSTITUTE FOR FOWLER MEASURE.

Democratic Members Present New Document on Currency Matter in House.

Washington, Mar. 10.—The Democratic members of the house committee on banking and currency Monday agreed to report to the house the minority currency bill, introduced by John Sharp Williams, as a substitute for the Fowler bill.

In the course of their report the minority say: "We oppose the bill because it virtually takes from the government power to regulate and safeguard the national banks of the country and wholly gives over the control of such institutions to a board of financiers which is selected by the banks themselves." The minority also takes exception to the provisions of the bill requiring the retirement of greenbacks; complains that it makes banks the agents of the government for the transaction of all its business and urges the inadequacy of the interest charge. It is also charged that under the action of the proposed law, all state banks and savings and trust companies would inevitably be driven out of business.

"With the banks all organized under one system, enjoying sole and complete power to issue all moneys as they deem proper, will there not be great danger either from contraction or inflation of the amount of money in circulation?" they ask.

"Will it not be in the absolute power of these banks, or their board of managers, to make money scarce or to make it plentiful; to make the rate of interest high or make it cheap; to cause a depression or to produce a relaxation? Surely congress is being asked to delegate to the banks a most dangerous and wonderful power in giving them absolute control of the medium of all values, money and in conferring on them sole power to issue money in such quantities as they think wise. The minority members of the committee say emphatically that this country is not ready to delegate such dangerous power. Without doubt the most serious proposition with which congress has had to deal in many years is the regulation and control of the great corporations that have grown over-powerful and beyond the control of the government."

WHITE MAN IS LYNCHED.

Following This Act, Mob Plans to Storm Jail for Two Other Men.

Bristol, Va., Mar. 10.—Swift vengeance was noted out to Jackson Presler, a young married man who was taken from his home near Seward's Creek, Russell county, in spite of his wife's appeal by a mob of 300 men and hanged to a tree. George Call and John Mutter were murdered at a dance and it was charged that Presler was implicated in the killing. Thomas Gross and Fred Dye, young men also charged with being implicated in the double killing, were arrested Sunday and hurried to the Lebanon jail, 20 miles away, in order to prevent lynching.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Mar. 10.—A message from Lebanon Tuesday stated that the two men had been lodged in jail there and now had been received that the mob which lynched Presler was being increased and was said to be on its way to Lebanon with a view to lynching Gross and Dye. The sheriff immediately increased the guard around the jail and a battle is anticipated.

SPORT ON ICE YACHTS

An Exciting Winter Diversion in Which Many Delight.

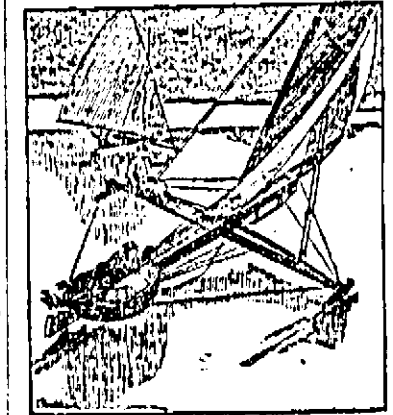

GREAT SPEED POSSIBILITIES.

Thousands of Dollars Are Invested in Iceboats Each Year—How the Yachts Are Rigged—One of the Most Exciting of Sports.

Dashing along with the speed of an express train, rising, skimming through the air, settling, wheeling and turning like a swallow, always with ease and grace, changing its course in an instant, only to shoot off in another direction with increasing momentum—that is the ice yacht.

Throughout the northern states, where the winters are cold enough to throw a coat of ice over the surface of rivers and lakes, ice yachting is rapidly growing as a recreation, each year adding devotees by the hundreds and drawing its followers closer into the fold.

The rivers and lakes of Maine, Lake Champlain, the Hudson, the St. Lawrence, the great lakes, the streams throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey, particularly the back channels of the ocean, furnish the means during several months of the year of enjoying this most attractive of pastimes.

The one great spot in the east where clubs flourish to a greater extent than in any other part and where from one end of the season to the other several races for cups and pennants are held every day is on the Shrewsbury river near Long Branch, N. J.

This section boasts of three clubs—the Shrewsbury, the South Shrewsbury and the North Shrewsbury, popularly known as the Red Bank club. Possessing more boats, holding more records, pennants and championships and competing in more races than any similar organization, these clubs have no superiors in the country.

Usually the initial trip is only the opening wedge to others until the speeding boats possess a fascination not unlike that of the automobile for greater speed. To the uninitiated the first trip is full of thrills and apparently bristling with danger, so that before he has traveled far he wishes himself on solid ground again.

Few persons except those who have ridden in them have an accurate conception of the appearance of an ice boat. Save for the tall masts and sails it bears little resemblance to the ordinary yacht. The body of the boat is shaped like a cross with the top part forward. The beam is barely wide enough to bear a couple of figures lying at length.

On the underside extends a long runner, where is usually the keel in a sailboat. The ends of the cross arm are shed with steel runners about a yard in length. The rudder acts on the same plan as that of the ordinary boat, but is also reinforced with a steel runner, which cuts into the ice in sailing the yacht around.

The weight of the yacht's body and its shape admit of but two styles of sails, the regulation double sails, consisting of the mainsail and a small one forward, and the latest rigging of one big sail resembling a Chinese junk.

Some few boats are equipped with a small third topsail, but it has been found that this is too unwieldy and makes the boat top heavy in a strong wind.

Once started, the boat travels very easily, even in a moderate breeze. Its course is a series of leaps through the air, in each of which the boat rises several inches from the ice and shoots through the air like a flying machine. The return to the ice is so even and easy that there is not the slightest jar. It is this continual rising and falling at high speed which make ice yachting so attractive.

When the wind blows a gale and the ice is in good condition, the skippers place weights, depending on the size of the boat, on the ends of the long arms. This is to keep the runners down as much as possible, as there is loss of speed if the running is too much on the rear of the center runner.

Then, too, when the man at the rudder brings the boat about sharply while traveling at a high rate of speed the curve is described on the point of one runner, the other being high in the air, bringing the boat into an almost perpendicular position. In this emergency the weight acts as a safeguard to prevent the overturning of the boat.

For some boats records of a mile a minute are easy, while in a heavy wind, with perfect ice, two miles a minute have been accomplished. In fact, there is a wonderful record on the books of three-eighths of a mile in fifteen seconds, or at the rate of a mile in twenty-four seconds, two and a half miles in an hour, faster than any automobile or machine has ever annihilated space.

Let Your People Decide

Serve one dish of home-baked beans and one dish of Van Camp's. Then let your folks decide which kind they'll have next. And be glad of their choice. For you don't want to bother with home cooking—do you?—if your people like our methods best.

Here is an ideal kitchen, fitted with every facility. In charge of a chef whose main purpose in life is to create one perfect dish.

At stake on that dish is our reputation, established for 47 years. And a sale of tens of millions of cans every year depends on how people like it.

May we not claim, without offense, that we can prepare that one dish better than you?

One reason is that we bake in live steam.

So we don't crisp part of the beans, as you do. We don't burst the skins. Ours are all baked alike—baked until they are mealy. Yet they are nutty because they are whole.

That is the first point your people will notice. They will never again want beans mushy and broken when they learn the nutty flavor beans have when they're whole.

Then we bake the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together, and get our delicious blend.

You will never be content to add the sauce as a dressing when you learn how much better it tastes if baked into the beans.

Then we heat our ovens to 245 degrees, and bake the beans ninety minutes. Most of the beans in your baking dish never get half that heat.

That's why your beans are heavy and hard to digest. That's why they ferment and form gas.

It requires a fierce heat to break down the fibre of beans. To separate the particles so the digestive juices can get to them. Your oven cannot apply it.

Beans, to be digestible, must be factory cooked.

It is good to know that the beans which you like best are also the best beans for you.

Van Camp's BAKED WITH TOMATO SAUCE PORK AND BEANS

You will never be satisfied with other brands after you know Van Camp's. That nutty flavor, that perfect blend, that tang and that zest would be missed. Once learn how good beans can be, and you will be one of the millions who insist on Van Camp's.

But the difference in beans isn't all in the cooking. There is also wide choice in materials.

The beans, for instance, are sold as low as 30 cents per bushel. Yet we pay $2.10 for ours.

The reason is that we buy only the choicest Michigan beans. Ours are picked out by hand to give us only the whitest, the plumpest, the very cream of the crop.

We could buy tomato juice for 75 cents per barrel. Yet we pay $3.45 for just the tomatoes used in a barrel of ours.

The difference is this: Cheap sauce is made from tomatoes picked green, and ripened in shipment. Or of scraps from a canning factory. It lacks flavor and richness and zest.

Ours is made only from whole tomatoes, ripened on the vines. They are picked when the juice fairly sparkles. Our sauce has a savor which Nature alone can give.

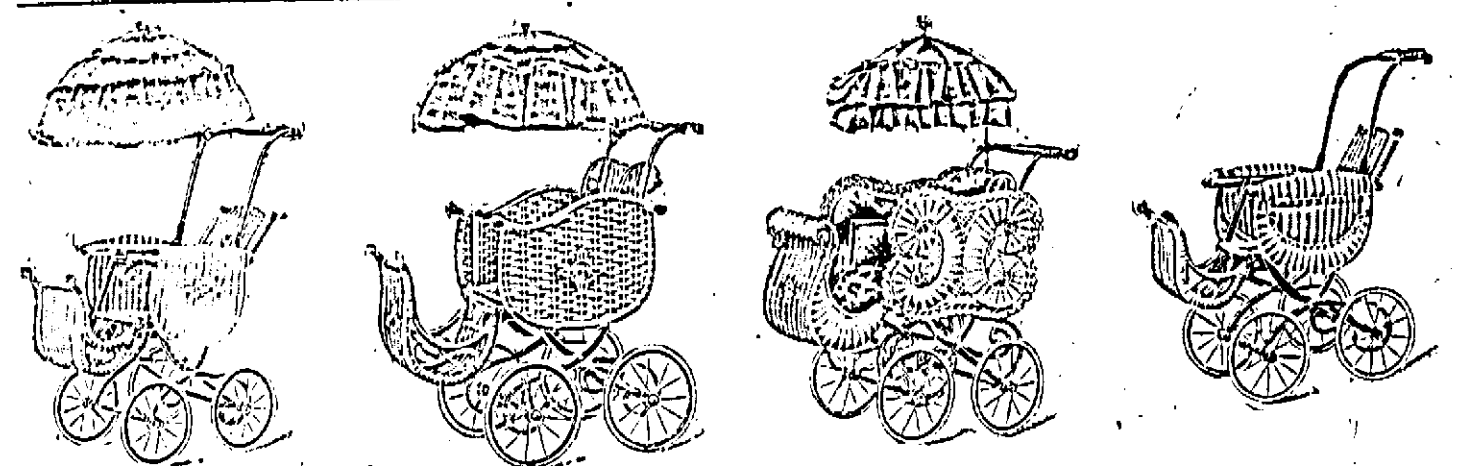

When you once know what your piquant tang means, you will never buy brands which lack it.

Prices: 10, 15 and 20c per can.

THE FORWARD VISION

He who thinks that all the changes that have occurred around him in the past ten or twenty years have left him unchanged, is deceiving himself. The facts, rather, that within a decade or two, in spite of our belief to the contrary, most of us have been made over probably several times in many of the more important ideas and attitudes as to questions of the day. It was not so long ago, for instance, that wages were explained by a simple oft-hand reference to "the law of supply and demand." But it has come to pass that the standard of living has a very decided influence upon wages.

Curiously enough, at a time when legislation is trying to cut the chord which binds present conditions with future prospects, by forbidding bargains relating to the future, the new view of life and its problems is putting more and more emphasis upon the future in order to induce people to work up out of the actual into more of the enjoyments of the ideal.

Yet of these two views, the one that gets people to live in the future, by transcending the present and its limitations, is the one who puts his means and his energies into it than the other. The other view that sees in the future a shifty method of bargaining is reactionary. It may hold the field for a while, but sooner or later it will be laid away with those instruments that have been devised to cramp and cripple mankind in its long steady tug up the hill of achievement.

IT IS NOT HYSTERIA

Newspapers all over the country are taking up the question of rigid protection of the children of the public schools from the disaster that swept over Collingswood, Ohio. It is not hysteria, but common sense that prompts the movement to insure the protection of the sacred charges of the public, the children of our schools. This is not insanity nor is it hysteria. It is an evidence of a desire to do all that is possible to add the officials to do their duty. It is a sign of proper conception of a duty.

In speaking of this movement, the Milwaukee Sentinel makes the following comment:

"It is an unfortunate trait of humanity the world over that drastic lessons are required to impress upon the mind the hidden dangers which lurk in conditions that ordinarily are regarded as safe simply because the always possible disaster has not come. When it does come—even though far away—there is an awakening. And with the awakening there follows action. That is the creditable, the hopeful side of the story."

In the investigation going on everywhere into public school conditions one object is held in view—the prevention of all causes which may lead to anything like the Collingswood catastrophe. In most places hairs are not being split as to whether the exact conditions are the same as those at Collingswood. Efforts to remove every factor that invites calamity, to strengthen every point of weakness, to provide every safeguard are going on. All hands are joining in these efforts. The members of the board of education are most diligent in their enforcement of all measures that will guarantee the protection of the pupils of the schools. Their work is deserving of great praise.

As public officials they have recognized the demand made upon them and have answered it with prompt action. Parents may rest assured that every precaution possible will be taken in the future, that fire drills, an essential element in this system of protection, will be held, and emergency fire drills and all safeguards possible taken.

So Milwaukee is now the resting place of Emma Goldman, the high priestess of the "Reds." Well, Milwaukee is a pretty live town just now with the "Reds" and Mayor Becker enforcing the sign ordinance.

Perhaps that New York-to-Paris automobile race will get out into the Rocky Mountains somewhere and get lost. Let us hope so, for then a relief expedition can be made up to rescue them.

Kaiser William ought to have been wise enough to have sent a man with his message instead of writing a letter. Letters are often dangerous weapons.

After having her whole soul for her miserable husband, Evelyn Thaw is to be thrown aside with a paltry $25,000 by the mother of the insane criminal on reports of paid spies.

Aspirants for local offices are now in the field. The fight is on and it promises to wax warm and furious in several wards.

This building of warships in the Inland West of peace suggests that some day we will have to have a war just to cut down expenses.

So there is to be a Taft ticket in the field after all. Well, Wisconsin is a fighting state—politically at any rate.

King Alfonso has gone to Barcelona where the "Reds" abound. It would be like placing an order for his coffin but he may come out alive.

Now that the spool trust has cut down the price of the thread trust the man without a button on his vest can get one if he has a wife.

A war in diamonds is liable to come. As a word of warning, however, save your diamonds.

China seems unusually slow in looking at matters through the same make of glasses as Japan wears.

That proposed trial of Chancellor Day will give him more of the same sort of advertising that he thrives on.

Why be surprised at the protest of the London "Times"? It has long been known as the "Thunderer."

Anna Gould could settle all rumors about herself by getting married.

This congressional battle royal he only just begun.

MOUTH NO PLACE FOR COINS.

Dangerous Practice Too Frequently Indulged In by Women.

"Women are addicted to many pernicious habits," observed a physician, "but I cannot conceive of one that is more idiotic than the placing of coins in the mouth while the purse or money bag is being opened. Most women do this, especially in the street cars, and are doubtless unmindful of the fact that they are thereby inviting dangerous throat and lung troubles. I have often watched women holding coins between their lips, and have been very strongly tempted to utter an admonishing word. Only today I saw a beautiful girl give a conductor a dime. Sitting opposite to her was a dirty-looking man, whose hands looked as if they hadn't been washed for a week. He gave the conductor a nickel and the conductor handed it to the young woman in change for her dime. She placed it between her lips while she opened her money bag. Why does not some ingenious woman introduce a small pocket or some device in the feminine wardrobe that will take the place of the lips for holding coins? Certainly she would be a benefactor to her sex."

FRIGHTFUL DEGREE OF COLD.

Frost's Intensity Hard for Dwellers in Temperate Climates to Realize.

It is difficult for us to form any conception of the degree of cold represented by the 89 degrees of frost recorded from certain parts of Russia. Sir Leopold McClintock tells how in one of his Arctic expeditions a sailor was foolish enough to do some outdoor work at precisely this temperature. His hands froze and when he rushed into the cabin and plunged one of them into a basin of water so cold was the hand that the water was instantly converted into a block of ice. At 25 degrees, Dr. Kane says, "the moustache and under lip form pendulous beads of dangling ice. Put out your tongue and it instantly freezes to this icy crust. Your chin has a trick of freezing to your upper jaw by the luting of air of your beard; my eyes have often been so glued as to show that even a wink was unsafe."

He Had No Objection.

"We—we want you to marry us," said the blushing young man, full-cutting a young woman with downcast eyes and smiling face who stood a step behind him.
"Come in," said the minister, and he endeavored to ease their embarrassment for a moment; but he soon decided that it was useless to try.
"Will you be married with a ring?" he inquired.
The young man turned a helpless gaze on his companion, and then looked at the minister.
"If you're not one to spare and it can come out of the two dollars, I guess she'd like it," he said at last. Youth's Companion.

MRS. FRANK HEAP SLACK.

A romance which had its inception during the progress of the famous globe encircling tour of William Jennings Bryan and party three years ago, came to light at Boston a few days since as the result of the marriage of Mrs. Margarette Slack, a charming and wealthy young widow of Port Wayne, Ind., and Frank Heap Slack, a prominent eastern millionaire, who has extensive cotton mill interests at Fall River and other points in Massachusetts.

Both were invited to join the party at San Francisco and first met in that city. As the tour progressed through the Hawaiian Islands, to Japan and to Russia, the friendship which had been manifested between the two rapidly assumed a different form. At Stockholm, Sweden, Mrs. Slack, the widow, and Mr. Slack, the cotton mill owner, were the guests of honor at a ceremony which took place in the city hall. The ceremony was a grand affair and the bride and groom were the center of attraction. The bride is independently wealthy.

On their arrival on American soil she continued her journey to her Port Wayne home, while he returned to Fall River. They have never did run smoothly anyway, and it seemed that the pretty romance was permanently blighted through an estrangement, which developed as the result of a petty grievance.

Upon Mrs. Slack's decision to resume her musical studies at Boston she returned to that city and took up her abode at the Hotel Nottingham in the fashionable Back Bay district. One day she received an invitation to a dinner party. As fate would have it, the Fall River millionaire was invited to the same party. They met and naturally, as might be expected, the old-time relation quickly resumed.

Within an hour's time after the last meeting the word in the ceremony which pronounced them man and wife was said.
The groom, in addition to his New England holdings, owns an extensive estate in Old England, bequeathed to him at the death of his father. The bride is independently wealthy.

Time's Changes.

When a woman is young she admires the man of just a little wickedness. When she is older she worships the man of much goodness.

Man can drive wild horses, govern a nation, scale mountain peaks and win a war, but when he tries to rule a woman he knows that he will meet defeat.

PLAN PERFECTED FOR GREEN HOUSE

DR. C. G. DWIGHT'S IMMENSE UNDERTAKING SOON TO START.

HAS THREE LARGE HOUSES

Will Grow Roses and Carnations for the Wholesale Market—30,000 Square Feet of Glass.

Dr. C. G. Dwight has completed his plans for his three immense greenhouses which will be built immediately. Thirty thousand square feet of glass will be used in the structures, which will require 1500 pounds of putty to put in place. This glass will be shipped in one car lot and will be one of the largest shipments ever received in the city. His heating plant for the three houses, which will be 261 feet long by 27 wide, it will take over 10,000 feet of 1 1/2-inch pipe to fill this important end of the work. The structures of the three houses will be of iron and steel and the whole equipment of the modern and approved type. Dr. Dwight has employed one of the best-known growers in Chicago, who will come May first to take charge of the work. Roses and carnations will be the two flowers grown and they will be sold to the whole sale trade only, but in any way competing with the other greenhouses in the city. In speaking of his venture Dr. Dwight said this afternoon: "I have just completed my last contract. The work of grading will begin next week and the first of April the contractors will commence their work. I have purchased slips of the finest varieties of roses and carnations on the market and they will blossom this year. I am certain that the establishment of the proposed greenhouses will add materially to the growing of bedding stuff in the other greenhouses in the city. Then, too, all the seedlings and slips for the Park and Pleasure Drive Association can be started in my houses and also at different times of the year I can give them much space for decorative plants. In growing for the wholesale market I must have the best and I will have it."

ARE IN A QUANDARY CONCERNING WALLIN

Physicians Have Found Him Somewhat Simple-minded but Not Really Demented.

The question of what is to be done about Otto Enoch Wallin, the recluse who was picked up by Officer Mason at an early hour yesterday morning, has not been definitely settled. Drs. J. W. St. John and J. P. Pembler made an investigation of his mental condition at a late hour yesterday afternoon. While he seemed somewhat simple about a number of things, there was little, if anything, to indicate that he was demented in the accepted understanding of the term. Dr. St. John thought it would be well to have him committed to the county house for a time, but the fact that he was a non-resident was an obstacle in the way of this simple solution. The commitment paper has been returned to Judge Sale's office, but only Dr. St. John signed it and he has not filled out the blank left for the name of the state institution to which the man is to be assigned. Meanwhile the six-foot Swedish brother is patiently waiting at the lock-up. The police do not believe he can explain any mysteries excepting, possibly the one: "Who stole the milk?"

STATE FAIR BOARD RETAINS LOCAL MEN

Grant U. Fisher Will Again Be Superintendent of Grounds and Fred Clemons Is to Have Charge of Gates.

At the recent annual meeting of the State Board of Agriculture Grant U. Fisher was re-elected superintendent of the grounds and Fred Clemons was again appointed to take charge of the gates, after his complete and highly satisfactory report for last season had been formally approved. The election of Mrs. Ida F. Howls of Elm Grove as superintendent of the poultry department was the single change in the management. The 1908 state fair will be held the week beginning with Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7, and besides offering prizes to the various labor organizations for parades and games, one of the best spectacles in the country will be secured for an address, Wednesday, instead of Thursday, will be Milwaukee Day and Thursday will be State Day. Premiums on livestock and agricultural products were increased by $5,000. The speed prizes and program will be about the same, with prospects of the best race meet in the northwest memorably heightened by assurances that a number of strings of horses which have heretofore been on the eastern circuit exclusively will this season be placed on the western circuit.

LABORATORY EXPERIMENT CAUSE OF INCIDENT AT THE FIVE-CENT THEATRE

Boy's Clothes Caught Fire but Not a Single Spectator Left Until Show Was Over.

When a bottle containing some poisonous solution which takes fire quickly when exposed to the air, upset in a high school boy's pockets last evening and began to smoke in his clothes, there was a little commotion in the front end of the Unique five-cent theatre where he happened to be standing at the time. The excitement quickly subsided, however, when the lights were turned up, the picture machine stopped for a moment, and the announcement made by Morris Dalton, the proprietor, that there was absolutely no danger. None of the spectators left their seats and the show was resumed after a delay of a minute or two. The theatre has a large double-door exit in the rear as well as two in front. The boy's new suit of clothes and overcoat were badly damaged, but he escaped injury further than a few burns.

Mrs. Dalton 10: Mrs. John Dalton has been quite ill for the past few days at her home at 153 West Bluff street.

EIGHT DAYS WHITE GOODS SALE

Eight Days of the Lowest Prices on Muslin Underwear, White Cotton Goods and Embroideries ever made in Janesville. Commencing Saturday Morning at eight o'clock, March 14, ending Saturday Evening, March 21. Without doubt the Greatest Sale of Muslin Underwear ever held in this city.

We have a merchandising feat nothing short of wonderful to perform. We have set ourselves the task of beating the splendid record of our well remembered White Sale of last season. The difficulty of this achievement can be appreciated when it is considered that the cost of all white goods has been steadily on the advance for the past twelve months. It took unusual shrewdness and watchfulness on our part to minimize the effects of the rising market. Long ago, in the summer months, our orders were being placed and plans perfected for this pre-eminent event. During the manufacturers' dull season, when there was hardly enough work to keep them going, extra price inducements were held out for orders. Of these conditions we took full advantage. Now, we present broader varieties than ever of Undermuslins, Embroideries and White Goods, at much lower prices than are offered elsewhere. They're all clean, fresh, high grade goods, made to give satisfaction and long service. After our present stock of White Goods are exhausted we can hardly hope to buy fresh supplies at the retail prices we are now making. The dictates of economy should prompt you to partake liberally of the unexpected values featured in this sale. Come, and be delighted by the beautiful display and richly profit by the savings offered.

See these beautiful Undermuslins displayed in our show windows.

Sale positively does not open until Saturday morning at eight o'clock, March 14th.

Sale positively does not open until Saturday morning at eight o'clock, March 14th.

Beautiful Embroideries

Fresh from their makers—in such a multitude of out-of-the-ordinary patterns that an attempt at description is useless. Many months ago we made these purchases, before the present advance in prices, therefore we are now able to offer them to you at retail for what other stores would be asked to pay for them at wholesale. There are bargains to be found at every turn, and the more you buy of these pretty embroideries, the more your savings will amount to.

Lot No. 2 Your choice of any garment shown above and many others 59c

This group of undermuslins, like the above cut, is another rare lot and your choice of any garment for 59c. We cannot begin to tell you the exceptional value of this lot; look them over. Your unrestricted choice of any garment for..... 59c

The Better Grades of Undermuslins

We are showing in addition to the four special lots advertised, a line of goods that we have never before been able to get into this sale; it includes garments ranging in price from $2.00 to $5.00, on which you are assured of a most liberal saving.

Lot No. 4 Your choice of any garment shown above and many others $1.48

An effective showing of attractive undermuslins, as illustrated above, makes another lot from which you can choose most profitably, as this price will positively not hold after present lot is exhausted. We wish that you would examine this lot in particular. Any garment that you desire, for only $1.48

White Goods of Every Sort Reduced

This sale absolutely demands the attention of savers. We never deal in trumped-up sale arguments, but are always ready and willing to give sound reasons for big values offered. It's a well known fact that manufacturers' prices on white goods have shown a steady increase for months. By foreseeing present conditions and anticipating the advance, we are able now to offer white goods at prices which prevailed before the rise. After present stocks are sold, we must simply pay more and charge more for fresh arrivals. Could we offer any stronger argument to induce you to provide now for your every possible need?

The garments pictured in the above lot are most attractive, cut full and trimmed daintily; can seldom be procured at such a price. Extra sized garments are included in this sale. The value in this lot of undermuslins is more than liberal. Any garment you wish for only..... 98c

AT THE
PLAY HOUSES.

TWO CHARACTERS IN "THE LAND OF DOLLARS" IN WHICH EZRA KENDALL IS STARRING. HERE SATURDAY MATINEE AND NIGHT

Ezra Kendall has scored the greatest success of his entire career. In George Ade's newest and funniest comedy, "The Land of Dollars," judging from the pleasure and size of the audience which have greeted him since his first performance. It is written in three act, and is a story of a little village to accompany him to the bank of dollars, and they can be used at the Myer's theatre, matinee
and night, on Saturday, March 11.
Kendall plays a millionaire who, to celebrate his return to good health and wealth after a temporary loss of both, invites a dozen inhabitants of
a little village to accompany him to Atlantic City and promises to gratify their every wish. The types of character include a village prima donna who doesn't think Ezra can sing; a rural veterinarian with ambitions; a hotel-keeper who owns a hotel;
though the characters run in a village Napoleon of finance, who is going to teach London how to manipulate the copper market; a cook who becomes amorous from her dandelion delirium;
and a dozen other such characters as only George Ade can create. Kendall's role is one of the funniest he has ever played, though a distinct departure from the type he usually portrays. The plot is logical, of deep human interest, and the company good.

News From The Suburbs

CLINTON
Clinton, March 9.—On account of the late which prevented the celebration, and the disagreeable weather,
the concert, which was to have been given on Friday last, was postponed for two weeks.
Wm. Hamilton and family have recently moved in from the farm and now occupy the fine home on Pleasant street, which he purchased of A. J.
Whitcomb.

Ed Morrison is again a resident of Clinton, having moved onto the W. E.
Hamilton farm about the first of March.
Roy Weaver visited relatives and friends here recently. He is now living at Green Bay.
The past few weeks the weather has been such as to enable the "Board of Trade" to do a rushing business, the attendance being good.
The thawing of the snow and ice recently has shown very clearly where there should be better drainage, so that the water would not necessarily have to flow over the walks. This feature should surely receive more careful attention in the future, and, in a few cases the necessary change
should not be made.

Dr. G. W. Smith remains in very poor health.
Mrs. C. C. C. and Mrs. Spaulding
are slowly improving.
Mrs. Stony entertained the M. E.
Missionary society on Friday, although she was not feeling particularly well.
It has been suggested that next session the Y. M. C. might try and arrange for a series of three debates, to be given here by students of the high school, and those of some two other nearby towns. This would be a change, would not only be interesting to all who attended, but would be of benefit to the young people who participated.
March weather and no mistake
about it.
Our people will all regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Philanthia Sprug at the home of her daughter in Chicago a few days since. She was well

JURY FOR ALIA IS SECURED

TRIAL OF DENVER ASSASSIN MAY END TUESDAY.

Entire Monday Session Taken Up
by Gathering in the Talesmen.

Denver, Col., Mar. 10.—Monday evening a jury was secured to try Gul-suppe Alia, charged with the murder of Father Leo Heinrich, a Roman Catholic priest, in St. Elizabeth church, February 23, last. Alia shot and killed the priest while the latter was administering the holy sacrament
to him.

The entire session of the court Monday was taken up in the examination of witnesses, 33 passing through a rigid cross-examination by District Attorney Sedger and by Robert H. Whitcomb, attorney for the defense. At times the judge, Greeley Whitford, took a hand in the questioning of the witnesses. The defendant's attorney used his right of peremptory challenge freely, and 11 men who were satisfactory to the state were compelled to leave the box on the demand of Mr. Whitcomb. When the box was finally filled with 12 men satisfactory to both sides,
Judge Whitford instructed the jurors that they would be kept together and not allowed to communicate with anyone during the trial.
With the jury box filled, it is believed that the rest of the trial will not consume more than two days, and it is possible the case may go to the jury Tuesday evening.

every year spend less money for liquor

EASY BOWL CLEANING

If the Separator Bowl is a Tubular,
It's Ten Times as Easy to Clean
as a "Bucket Bowl."

Looking at the bowls of any and all cream separators will tell you why Tubulars are easiest to clean—smooth pieces and few of them, joints, portions, hinges or angles.
The leading dairy experts commend dairy cleanliness, the public demands
it and laws enforcing the cleanliness of dairy implements are not improbable.
Compare the Tubular bowl with those other "bucket bowls" and at a glance you will see why the Tubular is "different from others."
The Tubular is just as superior in ease of running, in efficiency of separating, in oil economy, in long life as in ease of cleaning.
This says in cleaning means time
for sewing, reading or other things,
and the light task of cleaning a Tubular bowl requires but one to three minutes.
In the Tubular, there are but three pieces to be handled, and the parts are plain and smooth—there are no holes and irregularities to retain the residue of separating.
Truth is bitter sometimes, yet it is a fact, if you, Mr. Dairyman, are using a "bucket bowl," you are imposing unnecessary hard work upon your family and dairy helpers.
Our Catalog No. 52 will enlighten you still further on the merits of the Tubular and you will readily see that the ease of cleaning a Tubular bowl is due to its simplicity and its fewer parts, as compared with the bucket bowl shown above and in fact, all other cream separators.

APOLLO CLUB ENDS
ITS THIRD SEASON

Glenn Dillard Gunn, pianist, and Miss
Hedwig Nurnberger, Contralto, Pleased Large Audience Last Evening.

With the twelfth concert given at Library hall before a large audience
last evening, the Apollo club's third successful season came to an end.
It was opened with a recital by Miss Grace Nelson, soprano, on October 7,
and the greater number of the succeeding fortnightly programs were given by such sterling artists as Mrs.
Maude Penlon Bullman, soprano, and Miss Lila Lind, pianist; Forrest Danney Carr, basso cantante; Mrs. Rhoda Weaver Carson, soprano, Robert Boice Carson, tenor-soprano, and Edgar Nelson, pianist; the Jaffe string quartet and Mrs. Herman Zeltz, pianist; Edward Baxter Perry, the blind
pianist and composer; Frederic Martin, baritone; William Beard, baritone; Mrs. Ora M. Fletcher, dramatic soprano, Calvin F. Lampert, pianist, and Dr. Hugh Schuessler, basso. Mrs.
John P. Sweeney was accompanied on several occasions and two highly creditable entertainments were given entirely by members of the club. The president, Gordon H. Fethers, to whose untiring zeal and diplomacy and wide acquaintance with the people prominent in the musical world the high character of the year's offerings was largely due, announced that the club
was in a healthy financial condition,
all expenses having been met from the total receipts of $643.

The final program was given by Glenn Dillard Gunn, pianist, and Miss Hedwig Nurnberger, contralto, and their work proved very pleasing, indeed—so much so that an encore was demanded after each series of numbers. Mr. Gunn is less showy in his methods but perhaps more consoling and profound than some of his predecessors of this season. His rendition of the Beethoven sonata Opus 27 No. 2, was a rare delight, and the same may be said of the lively Schubert Moment Musical in F major, and the Liszt Cantique d'Amour.
That attitude of mind which holds aloof from the full glare of the joyous sunlight and finds all worldly hopes tinged with a certain sadness, seemed to be constantly revealed in the remarkable personality and the numbers given by Miss Nurnberger.
She is gifted with a beautiful contralto voice and some of its high tones are of real soprano brilliancy. Schumann's "Die Trübsal," Ode, Eleanor Smith's "The Quest," and the three wistful little compositions by Langdon Ronald, were peculiarly suited to her style and method and were championly rendered.

D. B. YOUNG BOUGHT
A STERLING HOTEL

Former Manager of The Grand Purchased The Hotel Galt in Sterling Illinois.

D. B. Young who until the first of the year was manager of the Grand Hotel in this city and counts his Janesville friends by the score has purchased the Hotel Galt in Sterling Illinois and will take possession about the 15th of the present month. A Sterling paper in commenting on the change says:

The Hotel Galt of which D. F. Maywood is the landlord, was sold last evening by D. B. Young, who has lately been the manager of the Grand Hotel at Janesville, Wis. The new landlord expects to take possession of the Galt hotel some time between March 15 and March 31. The new landlord has had nineteen years' experience in the hotel business. He is a thorough business man, congenial and well liked by all who know him. He is a brother of Alderman Young of Chicago, the well known politician and leader of that city.

Mr. Young will retain all of the employees of the Galt house, and so far as known will make no changes. During the two years that Landlord Maywood has had possession of the hotel
many improvements have been made and the hotel greatly improved. Thomas A. Galt, proprietor of the hotel building has been very liberal and has made many.

Mr. Maywood has decided to go west, and will locate in some western state. He will leave on a prospecting trip Monday, going to Denver.
While in this city Mr. Maywood and his family have made many friends,
who wish their success and happiness
in their new home.

Mr. Young is a married man, and of course will move his family here.

Self-Control.
Rare is the virtue of self-control.
One of the most important, but one of the most difficult things for a powerful mind is to be its own master; a pond may be quiet in a plain, but a lake wants mountains to compass and hold it in.—Benjamin Franklin.

Why She Refrained.
"George, I saw that Singleton woman
to-day carrying the silk umbrella
that she borrowed from me at the club card party." "Why didn't you ask her for it?" "I was just going to when I remembered that I borrowed it from Mrs. Trumper."

ner Gathering.

Everyone is talking county fair and approving of the movement to establish one firmly in Janesville. The idea of forming a Janesville Fair Association has not with instant approval all over the city. It will mean much for Janesville both this year and in the years to come. The question of having a Home Coming at the same time is also arousing considerable interest and promises to develop into something that Janesville can honestly be proud of and bring its old residents back to with pride. The meeting on March 18th at the city hall is open to everyone interested in the project and it is to be hoped a representative gathering will be present.

The boys and girls' basketball teams
came over from Albany Friday evening, and although the games they played with the local teams were fast and interesting, the Albany crew were the losers, the Janesville girls' team scoring 8 to Albany's 6, and the boys' game stood 33 to 4 in favor of the local players. The Janesville girls feel quite jubilant over their victory
as they defeated Albany on their own floor a short time ago, and hold the distinction of being the only team which has been able to defeat the Albany team this season. The broadhead girls and the local high school boys will play the Janesville teams here in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on March 20. These will be the closing games of the season.

world many years ago by circling the globe in 80 days. Twenty years ago it seemed the dream of a madman—the phantom of a romance. It took the will and pluck of a woman to realize Julius Verne's conception, "Nellie Bly."
She accomplished the feat, to the astonishment of the reading world. The newspapers were full of "Nellie Bly" exploits, when suddenly she disappeared from the public eye. She married a millionaire manufacturer and retired to a superb estate in Brooklyn. In a few short years her millionaire husband died, and today Mrs. Elizabeth Cochran Seaman, the "Nellie Bly" of yesterday, is the sole head and actual manager of the Iron Clad Manufacturing company, a concern employing 5,000 hands, many of whom are girls.
The business is conducted upon Utopian
methods; clubs, reading rooms, recreation grounds, and even night school are provided for employees.
